This is an agreement under which Gala Design (Designer) will provide an invitation package (Deliverables) to the above-named bride and groom (Client). You agree as follows:

- 1. Deposit, Fees and Payment: Client shall pay Designer a non-refundable deposit of $500 (enclosed) towards the total invoice amount, such deposit to be paid upon Client's execution of this Services Agreement. The invoice shall be delivered to Client with the completed Deliverables, such invoice to be paid with tax (GA only) within seven days of the invoice date. Clients located outside of Georgia, however, shall receive and pay the invoice prior to delivery. Please enclose deposit with this form. Work will begin after deposit is received.
- 2. Delivery: The parties will mutually agree on the delivery date for the Deliverables. Client shall bear the risk of loss or damage to the Deliverables upon Designer's shipment to Client. Designer shall not be responsible for any failures or delay in delivery caused by factors beyond the control of Designer, including, but not limited to, acts of God and postal or transportation errors or delays.
- 3. Scope: The scope of services to be provided by Designer, a description of the Deliverables and the fees and billing rates for the services and Deliverables shall be set forth in Designer's "Estimate" form, which will be provided to the Client upon choosing a final invitation package design. Any request for changes to the package design after three rounds of revisions or execution of the Estimate shall be subject to Designer's agreement and payment of additional fees.
- 4. Approval: Upon delivery of the final sample or PDF of the Deliverables, Client shall indicate his/her acceptance of the final sample by signing Designer's "Approval" form. Client understands and agrees that by signing this form, he/she shall unconditionally approve the final sample of the Deliverables for production. Designer will have no responsibility to make any additional changes (including error corrections) to the final sample OR to the completed Deliverables after Client executes the Approval form.
- 5. Ownership: All designs and artwork associated with the Deliverables and all copyrights therein shall remain the property of Designer. Client shall not copy, reproduce, disseminate or otherwise transfer the Deliverables or any portion thereof, except as permitted herein.
- 6. License: Designer grants to Client an unlimited, non-exclusive right to use the Deliverables in connection to the project described in the Estimate. All rights not granted herein are reserved by Designer. Usage of Deliverables or any part thereof is limited to the license described herein and any additional use shall be subject to Designer's written agreement and Client's payment of additional license fees. The grant of the license herein is subject to Client's full payment of fees to Designer.

Optional Quotations

This day I will marry my best friend, the one I laugh with, live for, love.

Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things endures all things. Love never ends. —1 Corinthians 13

As our love unites us, may my family become your family, my friends your friends.

Today two lives will become one, united by vows spoken with love.

My purpose is that they may be encouraged in heart and united in love, so that they may have the full riches of complete understanding, in order that they may know the mystery of God, namely, Christ in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
—Colossians 2:2-3

My soul has found the one whom it loves. —Song of Solomon 3:4

A life is sharing, caring. A love of endless giving together in the spirit of Christian Joy. One Man, One Woman, One life filled with wonder.

May God who gives patience, steadiness and encouragement help you to live in complete harmony with each other. —Romans 15:5

We have experienced love in our families and friends and now a new love in each other. With sincere joy and a firm desire to give this love its fullest expression...

Hearts filled with joy, lives filled with love.

Put on then, as God's chosen ones, holy and beloved, compassion, kindness, lowliness, meekness, and patience, forbearing one another and, if one has a complaint against another, forgiving each other; as the Lord has forgiven you, so you also must forgive. And above all these put love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony.
—Colossians 3:12-13

Life is a flower of which love is the honey.

Rejoice evermore. Pray without ceasing. In everything give thanks; for this is the will of God. —1 Thessalonians 5:16

How do I love thee? Let me count the ways.
—Elizabeth Barrett Browning

...make my joy complete by being like-minded, having the same love, being one in spirit and purpose. —Philippians 2:2

So different, this man and this woman; A stream flowing in a field
—William Carlos Williams

These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full. —John 15:11

Love looks not with the eyes, but with the mind. —Shakespeare

...I come to you lost, wholly trusting, as a man who goes into the forest unarmed... I rest in peace in you, when I arrive at last.
—Wendell Berry

Love may not make the world go 'round, but it makes the ride worthwhile. —Franklin P. Jones

To have and to hold from this day forward.

And the Lord shall guide you continually and satisfy you in drought and dry places and make strong your bones. And you shall be like a watered garden and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.
—Isaiah 58:11

Love comforteth like sunshine after rain. —Shakespeare

Where you go I will go, and where you stay I will stay, Your people will be my people and your God my God. —Ruth 1:16-17

The minute I heard my first love story I started looking for you, not knowing how blind that was. Lovers don't finally meet somewhere. They're in each other all along.

Love conquers all.

There's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream.
— Thomas Moore

Blessed are the man and the woman who have grown beyond themselves and have seen through their separations. They delight in the way things are and keep their hearts open, day and night. They are like trees planted near flowing rivers, which bear fruit when they are ready. Their leaves will not fall or wither. Everything they do will succeed.
—Psalm 1

Now that we're in love, what happens next?

So are you to my thoughts as food to life, or as sweet-season'd showers are to the ground. —William Shakespeare

Life is a long sleep and love is its dream. —Musset

During winter we will ride in a little red carriage with cushions of blue. We will be so happy. And a nest of stolen kisses will soften the turn at each corner. —Arthur Rimbaud

The only true language in the world is a kiss. —Musset

...love me for love's sake, that evermore thou mayest love on, through love's eternity...

...the earth says hello to us
The day has all our rainbows
The fireplace is lit with our eyes
And the ocean celebrates our marriage. —Paul Eluard

Where love is, there is faith.

Now you will feel no rain, for each of you will be a shelter to the other.
Now you will feel no cold, for each of you will be warmth to the other.
Now there is no loneliness for you; now there is no more loneliness.
Now you are two bodies, but there is only one life before you.
Go now to your dwelling place, to enter into your days together.
And may your days be good and long on the earth. —Apache song

Love is a trembling happiness.

All night the cicada chirps; all day the grasshopper jumps. Before I saw my love, my heart was confused. but now that I have seen him, now that I have met him, my heart is calm.
I climbed the southern hill to pick the fern shoots. Before I saw my love, my heart was troubled. but now that I have seen her, now that I have met her, my heart is at peace. —from the Chinese Book of Songs
